WELCOME TO OUR PRACTICE

Welcome to our practice at Columbus Speech & Hearing Center! Your presence here means that you have taken the first step in changing a speech and/or language problem, something that affects 10% of our population. It will be our honor to help you meet your therapy goals in the shortest time possible. Our therapy journey will be one of cooperation, open communication, and mutual respect. We want your attendance here to be pleasant as well as beneficial to you or your family member's speech-language development. To help in that process, provided below is basic information related to therapy, billing, attendance, communication with staff, etc. If you have questions not answered below, do not hesitate to call or ask our staff.

Services offered in the clinic: Three basic types of services are offered:

- Speech-language therapy for young children through geriatrics. Our youngest patients are premature babies who were tube fed and later needed help learning to suck-swallow-breathe; our oldest are often stroke patients. They come from all walks of life, all socio-economic stratas, a range of occupations. Specialty programs include swallowing, reading, cognitive rehabilitation for memory loss, voice, and pediatric language development. Our staff provides services at The Medical Center, Doctors Hospital, Hughston Hospital, two nursing homes, Head Start, Brookstone School, and in this clinic.

- Audiology services. We have the only regional department staff whose diagnostic services are provided solely by doctoral level audiologists. They offer a complete range of hearing evaluations, assessment of dizzy/balance disorders, hearing aid sales and maintenance. They test the hearing of all newborn babies at Doctors Hospital and babies in the High Risk Nursery at the Medical Center. They provide complete hearing evaluations and dizzy/balance assessments for numerous local physicians in private practice, and for those at Martin Army Community Hospital. They are the Preferred Providers by the City of Columbus, for their employees.

- Psychological services. These services begin in January, 2010, provided by Dr. Rabia Subhani-Siddique. Dr. Siddique is licensed clinical psychologist specializing in pediatric neuropsychology. She is trained in ADOS (the gold standard for Autism Spectrum Disorders) and was triage coordinator at Emory's Autism Research Center. Services include evaluation and treatment for neurodevelopmental disorders (Autism, developmental delays), neuropsychological (attention, learning, memory), psycho-educational (skills needed for academic success and placement) and general psychological (cognitive functioning, personality, emotional functioning and adaptive skills).

Factors affecting extent of progress and rate of progress for different speech-language disorders:

A number of things are important, including the disorder itself – those with a neurological or physical cause are often more difficult to correct than developmental disorders. The more severe the disorder, the longer it takes to correct. A very important variable is the consistency and thoroughness with which home work is completed. Children cannot complete it alone, so parents must help, which means the parents must observe therapy on a regular basis to learn how to reinforce emerging new speech and language patterns at home. Parental observation of therapy is encouraged and welcomed! We need your help. The child needs your help. It makes the difference in a child's getting a few hours of therapy a month directly from the therapist, versus that same therapy contact supplemented by daily, almost hourly, reinforcement from parents in the child's home environment. Another crucial factor affecting progress is regular attendance. Therapy is planned in a sequential manner with predictable time frames between steps. If attendance is not regular, progress will be hindered and enthusiasm for the process may be affected. (See separate attendance policy).

Contact information for staff: For all departments, call our main number (706-324-6112). If the therapist is not available, you will be routed to his/her voice mail, which is checked several times a day. It may be late in the afternoon before you get a return call, but it will be returned. If you need a faster response, tell the receptionist and she will get your message to the therapist between patients. Also, do not hesitate to ask for your therapist's email address. That can be an effective way to avoid playing phone tag. Other numbers include:

- Billing: Brandon Glover, Office Manager. 706-324-6112, extension 217.
- Scheduling:
 - Amy Goodrich: Clinic Coordinator. Ext.220
 - Sheri Love: Audiology Receptionist. Ext. 201
 - Veta Haltrich: Adult Receptionist, schedules adult speech patients for Dr. Ford, Dizzy/balance evaluations for Dr. Cellino and NeuroPsych evaluations for Dr. Subhani-Siddique. Ext.204
 - Heather Martin: Pediatric Receptionist. Ext. 202
 - Martha West: Insurance Questions. Ext. 216
 - Ashley McMahan: Medical Records. Ext. 203

Insurance coverage: CSHC is an approved provider for major insurance companies including Medicare, Medicaid, Tricare, and most private companies, with the exception of United Healthcare. Upon request, our front office staff calls for prior authorization of therapy before services begin. This helps rule out some disorders not covered. In some cases, coverage is not clear ahead of time. The carrier may refuse to commit to coverage until after treatment is provided. In all cases, the patient is ultimately responsible for payment of services either not covered at all by insurance, or for their share of the cost when insurance is a partial payor. The patient share is expected at the time services are rendered.

Hours of operation: 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM, Monday through Friday. Someone is usually here by 7:45 AM to take early calls. Most therapy is between 8:00 AM – 5:00 PM.

Holidays: News Years Day, Memorial Day, 4th of July, Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, and Christmas Day. Reminders are posted a week before each holiday.
